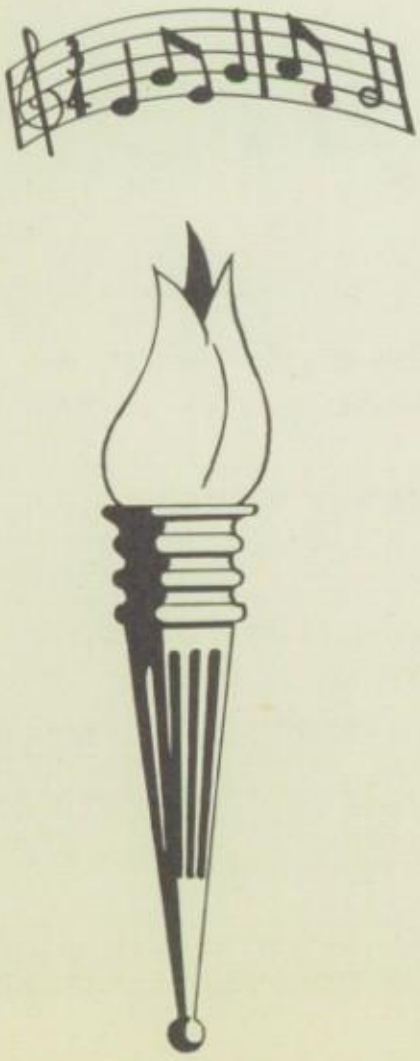
Dedication

FRANCIS GOES TO THE FESTIVAL

We, the annual staff of 1951-1952, produly dedicate "The Panther" to Mr. Francis DeMarco. We salute Mr. DeMarco for his unfailing effort and interest for the music department of the Ordway Public School.

Since Mr. DeMarco's employment, he has organized Mixed Chorus and improved the Glee Club and Band. Along with his many other activities, he has taken active part each year in making the Christmas program a complete and impressive success.

His inspiring devotion and excellent influences have increased the membership and interest in music organizations in our school.



History of O. H. S.

The present Ordway School building was erected in 1919 after the original building was destroyed by fire. The well-kept lawn and lovely trees add to the beauty of the grounds.

The building, the staff, and the program qualify the high school to be a member of the North Central Association of the High Schools and Colleges.

The graduating class of 1952 will be the forty-fourth class to graduate from Ordway High. In 1908 the first commencement exercises were held; Lily Edgar, now Mrs. J. C. Campbell of Los Angeles, California, was the only recipient of a diploma.*

O.H.S., long recognized as the center of interest in the community and as an outstanding achievement in the field of education, continues to press on in its endeavor to strengthen its program and better serve the students in this and future years. The curriculum is continually being reviewed by the administration with the view that in an ever-changing society the boys and girls who graduate from high school must be better and better prepared to meet the challenges in a world that is becoming more perplexing by the year. Through a joint meeting of the board of education, the grade and high school principals, and the superintendent, it was felt that one step which could be taken was the strengthening of the requirements for graduation in the academic courses and likewise offering a broader selection in the non-academic and vocational fields. This step has been taken and has been in effect this past year.

Requirements for graduation now include two units of science, two units in mathematics (algebra I and geometry), one year of American History, and three years of English. Along with the three years of English, there has been initiated a sophomore English examination which all students must pass in order to graduate. In the field of the non-required courses, the subjects of journalism, speech, and crafts--open to both boys and girls--have been added to the program so far. Next year will witness still further strengthening by adding vocational homemaking to the curriculum. The entire community has been interested and instrumental in the remodeling and preparing the department for the coming program. New equipment has been purchased for the entire department and it is felt that our facilities are second to none in this part of the state. The community interest which has been generated in the school program has not been limited to the classroom. A year ago last fall the patrons of the community fell behind the band program and bought new band uniforms for a 45 piece band. This particular undertaking was financed in the short period of a few months. The enthusiasm as has been shown in these two projects indicated that the people are interested in a forward-looking program of education, and it is our aim to keep such a plan before them. Such an outline for educational development should not fail in its endeavor to better serve the graduating boys and girls as they fit themselves to better attack the changing world which lies before them.

History

The Seniors of 1952 began their first year of school in O.H.S. under the supervision of Miss Patterson. Shirley Arnpriester, Virginia Moya, Barbara Ray, Evelyn Nelson and Velma Maxson started the first grade here and have continued through their senior year. To end our first year of school, we journeyed to Holbrook for a picnic. In our second year Colette Murphy and Carl South joined our gang. Mrs. Minnie Blaine was our teacher. Our third grade teacher was Miss Charlotte Davis. As we moved on to the fourth grade Nadine Grasmick, Patricia Kiper and Stella Salas moved in and our teacher was Miss Lorene Estes. Vernon McClendon and Jim Zuber dropped in during our fifth grade. Our teacher was Miss Alma McLin. We are sure the students will never forget a certain day she lost something. In our sixth grade Carl Stiffler staggered in. The principal, Mrs. Fred Buell was our teacher. Clara Glenn and Deloris Benortham were welcomed in our seventh year of learning. Mrs. Gertrude Murphy was our teacher. In our eighth year of education John Bailey and Marjorie Sober stopped by. We had twenty-five in our class. We were under the direction of Mrs. Irene Murphy. Our class officers were: President, Jim Zuber; Vice President, Colette Murphy; Secretary, Nadine Grasmick; and Treasurer, Marjorie Sober. Among the many interesting things we did was to go on a skating party, field trip and picnic at Holbrook.

During our ninth grade the kids from Numa joined our class. They were Bill Collins, Wanda Stice, Leroy Heidt, Bob Hawkins. Gail Franzman and Ed Moreland also came that year and made a total of thirty-two. Officers were: President, Jim Zuber;Vice President, Earl Peterie; Secretary, Leroy Heidt; Treasurer, Marjorie Sober. This year we gave an assembly consisting of an all male cast in "Twenty Minutes Between Trains."

Marie Avara, Jack Campbell and Doris Dodd came in our Sophomore year. There were thirty-seven in our class. Officers were: President, Leroy Heidt; Vice President, Ed Moreland; Secretary, Ruth Ewing; and Treasurer, Marjorie Sober.

In our eleventh grade we lost our favorite sponsor, Mrs. Murphy and our new sponsor was Mrs. McCleary. Those who entered were Larry Andrews, Ethel Logan. Officers were: President, Jim Zuber; Vice President, John Bailey; Secretary, Nadine Grasmick; and Treasurer, Marjorie Sober. The big events of the year were our play, "Clementine" and the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom, May 9, 1951.

Miss Johannsen was our sponsor for our senior year. Francis Burris, Eula Wodell, and Bob Barnes entered. Our class officers were: President, Leroy Heidt; Vice President. John Bailey; Secretary, Marie Avara; Treasurer, Marjorie Sober. Our play, "Room For One More" was given on March 28. On April 29 we donned our rompers and brought our toys for the one day in the year we could act like kids and get away with it. The annual Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom, which had a Spanish Patio theme, Commencement, Baccalaureate, and Class Night were the final activities of school.

Eighth Grade

This eighth grade class was very busy this year. We won six games out of seven in football, and in basketball eight out of ten.

The fifth grade participated in many of the grade school activities during the year. Among these are such important events as decorated bicycles for the homecoming parade, good representation of members took part in the athletics of the grade school group and two of our members won first and second in the Crowley County spelling contest.

The sports included football, basketball, boxing, and track. The first and second place winners of the spelling contest were from this group of fifth graders.

School work was represented with work in scrapbooks, science notebooks, building a log cabin, and studying insects. We decorated our room for each holiday season with our art work. The girls lost a spelling contest and had to treat the boys to a party.

THIRD AND FOURTH GRADE

There are 22 pupils in the 3rd and 4th combination room. Fifteen are third graders and seven are in the fourth grade.

Each class does the work required for his grade, but we do have room activities such as spelling bees, arithmetic contests, story telling and correct speech activities.

In our social studies work the children make out thought questions over the material read. After the questions are evaluated the children ask their questions and if no one in the class can answer a question they must read to find the answer.

THIRD GRADE

In the third grade we study several subjects such as reading, spelling, language, writing, health, social studies, and arithmetic. Our activities include art and music.

Social studies is a new subject to us in which we learn about workers at home and away. Science teaches us the story of the sun, moon, and stars, of the world of long ago and about plants and animals. New things that we learn in arithmetic are carrying and borrowing in addition and subtraction and how to multiply and divide. We learn to write letters in language, give reports, make good sentences, use words correctly and study poems and stories.

SECOND GRADE

Grade two has an enrollment of forty-five for the school year 1951-52. Thirty-six in grade two and nine pupils in the overflow room.

Children become good citizens through solving real problems and practicing citizenship responsibilities and rights in day by day living. Our concern begins with individual happiness, character training, citizenship and personality development, with our work directed toward achievement in skills necessary to read, spell, write, etc., satisfactorily at our grade level.

FIRST AND SECOND GRADE

Beginning of the year found the First and Second grades with too many pupils.

Mrs. Buell put all First grade names together and all Second grade names, then drew a certain number from each group. She had no idea whose name she was drawing. Impartial drawing put some of these into the combination rooms. These pupils had Mrs. Agnes Adkison as teacher, who resigned in January and Mrs. Etta Laycock finished the year.

This combination room follows closely the program of each of the First and Second grades.

This room has twenty-four pupils in it.

A class of close to thirty-six first graders has spent most of the year learning to read, developing talents painting pictures, cutting and pasting, numbers, and spelling.

We had a wonderful Christmas party. This spring we decorated cans and planted a spring flower garden, and made Easter bunnies.

Senior Class Play

The Senior Class Play, "Room for One More" was presented March 28. This two-act play by Anna Perrott Rose was combined comedy and pathos. Most of the story occurred in the family's beach cottage "The Pumpkin Shell." The family could always find room for another person in their midst--whether that person was an orphan, a cripple, or just lonely.

This play had its funny parts such as, giving artificial respiration to a turtle, and its sad parts with the death of lovable Poppy.

We are sure that all who saw this inspirational play will remember it for years to come.

Cast

Junior Class Play

Ann Harper's grandmother wills her a large share of her property, on the condition that Ann will get married. It takes Ann's family to talk her into marrying, and then Gil Barry's friends to make the family realize that Gil is the man for Ann! Everyone finally comes to an agreement before the play ends.

The Ordway High School football team was made up of a few lettermen and many inexperienced players. However, the two coaches, Hal Pfeifer and Bill McKimmey did a fine job of shaping the players into a team which lost three league games, tied one, and won two. Although Ordway was beaten by Manzanola on their home field, Ordway scored more points against Manzanola than any other team had done previously.

The football season started with the initial practice on August 25. The first game was with Limon, September 14. The season ended with Ordway in second place after beating Fowler on November 2.

Basketball Squad

The Ordway High Basketball team played under a decided disadvantage this year. Few of the boys had had experience. This team had never played as a team before, and we had a new coach. Although the boys had not played together before they soon began to work efficiently under the fine coaching of Bill McKimmey.

C. A. V. League Tournament second place. Participated in District Tournament.

As this was the first year Ordway had a track team practically all of the boys were inexperienced. However, Ordway took third place in a C. A. V. track meet with only twelve boys out for the team.

Bob Barnes took third place in the mile at the District meet at Lamar and went on to Fort Collins where he placed sixth in the State track meet.

In addition to laying the foundations for future track teams, Ordway has constructed ten hurdles, high jumping standards, chinning bars, 270 yard track, broad jumping and high jumping pits.

About twenty boys went out for baseball at Ordway High this year. The season was a short one with only four games being played. Scores are as follows:
